LIBRARY FEATURES CHILDREN'S BOOKS URGES MERGER OF

"Safety First Book Week" Begins Throughout Whole Country Tomorrow.

Pensions for Policemen and Firemen Here.

Books for children will be featured at the Public Library for one week beginning tomorrow morning in a special exhibit which has been arranged for the celebration of "Safety First Book Week." which is to be observed simultaneously by libraries throughout the United States.

The Public Library arkibit is to

The Public Library exhibit is in charge of Miss Clara W. Herbert, head of the children's department of the II- brew charities in the District under one brary, and great care has been taken in directorship was advocated by Barnard the selection and classification of the Danzansky, president of the Hebrew the selection and classification of the books. There are stories of adventure, that have historical value, for boys hetween the ages of ten and sixteen. There is a section devoted entirely to books for girls under sixteen years of age another section with books of large type and profusive illustrations, for children under ten, and a section of all children in the control of the children of all children of all segments.

children under ten, and a section of Christmas books for children of all ages.

"The principal fault with hundreds of books which look respectable enough on the outside," says Miss Herbert, "is their gross exaggeration, which works on a boy's mind in a deadly fashion.
"In our homes and schools, and other community agencies, we instruct and train our children in ways of high thinking and right living, and then, into the midst of all, in a manner to which the child is most susceptible, in the form of a story, comes the iniquity of the dissuised thriller, at least to nullify our best efforts, if not actually to arrest the fullest and hishest development of the child."

During "Safety First Book Week" members of the children's department will be on duty between the hours of 2 and 5 n.m., except on Friday and Saturday, to show the books to callers and to answer questions regarding them. On Friday the hours will be 2 to 5 n.m. and Saturday the hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in order that school children may have full benefit of the exhibit.

TRUSTIES' TRIP TO HOMES CUT SHORT

Pair Alleged to Have Slipped Ashore From Launch, Taken Back to Finish Sentences.

An attempt to spend Sunday at home rith their friends in spite of the fact with their friends in spite of the ract main at Occoquan for fifteen days, led to the arrest this morning of Carroli Johnson and Edward Davis, both colored. They are now on their way back to finish their unexpired sentences. Johnson and Davis were arrested a few days ago, charged with fighting, by policemen of the Eighth precinct. Yesterday morning, being regarded as trustles, they came to Washington on the launch from the workhouse and slipped ashore. They were rearrested at their old hausts, however, by Epicemen Cox and Ford and surrendered to the Occoquan authorities. At the time of their arrest. Johnson said he lived at 2224 Eleventh street northwest, and Jones at 2432 Georgia avenue.
